LA TIERRA DE LOS INCAS

Turismo Convencional > AMAZONAS

The department of Amazon has one varied natural and cultural wealth that combines ecosystems of mountain range and forest with impressive archaeological centers, was seat of the Chachapoyas culture, the one that leaves the valuable legacies us after succumbing to the Inca Empire in 1475.

One of the important cities of the department of AMAZONAS is Chachapoyas. It is the present capital and base for different tours from the archaeological rest of great importance between which it emphasizes the Strength of Kuélap. Their stony constructions, temples, strengths, platforms, tombs, ceramics and cities, give us testimony of the great advance reached about this civilization. This strength represents the maximum legacy of the zone (also it is compared with Machu Picchu) which is complemented splendidly with attractions like: The Archaeological Rest o Levanto ; Yalape; Leimebamba Local Museum among others, as well as natural places like the Lagoon of the Condores, the Valley of the dinosaurios or simply the zones where these legacies are.
