Turismo Convencional > MADRE DE DIOS

Puerto Maldonado is the capital of the department of Madre de Dios and is located in the south-eastern part of Peru at 183 meters of altitude. It was founded in 1902 and is one of the most important cities of the Southern jungle in the country. It is a young and bustling frontier city with forestry and gold panning as their main economic activities, although farming and the ecological tourism are being developed.

Its climate is tropical, calid humid and rainy between November and April, with an average temperature during the year between 26°C and 35°C. Puerto Maldonado is the scenary of adventure in a wild and marvelous jungle located next to the Manu National Park and the Tambopata-Candamo National Reserve.
